Just how clean or dirty is our Androscoggin?

Local team hopes to find answers

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Bethel Pollution Prevention team starts testing the Androscoggin River next month, hoping to solve the 11-year-old mystery of just how clean the water is in the Bethel area.

Judging by test results from 1984, the river does not meet class B standards for bacteria count, according to Environmental Specialist Jim Jones of the Department of Environmental Protection. Classes A, B, and C rivers are all swimmable and fishable, but with varying risk standards.

Jones backs the pollution team as part of the Androscoggin River Watershed Pollution Prevention Project. The seven-mile, half-century-old program uses locally organized teams to identify and try to eliminate pollution sources along the river. The Bethel team met Tuesday to discuss testing and possible follow-up.

Jones said a high bacteria count, due to combined sewer overflow in South Bethel, was one of the problems in 1984. He also said the river is cleaner than the 1980s, but the team still needs to find out how clean it is.

The team plans to collect water samples for bacteria, pH, and other pollutants from May to September. The data will be used to design the labwork. The tests will include bacteria counts, dissolved oxygen, and turbidity (cloudiness due to suspended solids).

Jones said the group would not do flow testing, as it is more complicated and expensive.

Their goal going into this was to determine if the river is acceptable for swimming. If it's not acceptable, they can try to find out where the pollution is coming from, and whether they can do something about it, said team member Eric Schwartz.

Jones said the group's testing could show the river now meets class B standards. The James River Paper Company in Berlin, N.H., has been working to reduce pollutants going into the river from its mill. The city of Berlin has also upgraded its sewer system for the same reason.

New Hampshire Dept. of Environmental Services officials said that as of last summer, diatom levels in the river near the James River mill are no longer measurable. They also said their bacteria tests show the river to be swimmable by N.H. standards.

Bethel team member Dick Hoch said that as an occasional fisherman, he observes daily fluctuations in the river.

Pay-per-bag proposal rouses little enthusiasm

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Would it really save money? Would it be fair? The questions that the town's residents were asked when they voted on the pay-per-bag proposal last week were not the only ones that were asked.

The town's selectmen, led by Chairman Art Gilbert, had a long list of questions to ask the voters. They included: "Would the town save money by switching to pay-per-bag?" "Would the town be able to pay for the extra services that would be needed?" "Would the town be able to pay for the extra services that would be needed?"

We really don't want to be the only town in the state that has a pay-per-bag system. The town's residents are not the only ones who are asked to pay for the extra services that would be needed.

PATRIOTS DAY PRESENTATION—On Wednesday, April 19, 7 p.m., the Bethel Bicentennial Committee will sponsor a Patriot's Day presentation in honor of the 220th anniversary of the "shot heard 'round the world." The evening event, titled "A Soldier's Journal of the Events at Lexington and Concord as Recalled by Josiah Thatcher," will be in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Based on historical accounts and actual eyewitness testimony, Josiah Thatcher, portrayed by Jim Rose of Bethel, is a fictional character created to incorporate little-known items about our nation's founding and the lives and times of ordinary citizens. There is no admission charge, but donations for the Bethel Bicentennial observance will be gratefully accepted. Everyone is welcome. (Photo by Stanley Howe)

INTERVALE HOME GUTTED BY FIRE—The home of Orin Sprague of Bethel was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. Bethel fire chief Jim Young said the burn pattern indicated it started near a clothes dryer in the basement. Fire departments from Bethel, Newry, and Greenwood fought the blaze. Sprague is now staying with relatives. The house, which he built himself, was insured. (Photo by Alison Aloisio)

Building permit revision scrapes by first hurdle

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Next year Bethel's building permit ordinance will turn 40 -- unless voters agree at Town Meeting to replace it with a newer version.

The Board of Selectmen voted last week to hold a public hearing on a proposed revision to the current ordinance, which was adopted in 1956.

The vote was not unanimous. Chairman Art Gilbert and selectman Rick Whitney voted against the revision, terming it unnecessary (Gilbert) and a Big Brother-like intrusion (Whitney).

A revision was first drafted last year, by code enforcement officer Norm Putnam. But the selectmen decided then that a revision should have broader input, so they charged an six-member committee with the task.

In the past three months the committee met a half-dozen times, eventually producing a new ordinance six times longer than the current one-page version.

Three members of the committee presented their revision to the selectmen last week -- only to be surprised by the coolness of their reception.

"This (the revision) wasn't our idea," said committee member Reggie Brown later. "The selectmen asked us to do it."

"It isn't supported by the selectmen, there's no point in taking it to the voters," Brown said.

Selectmen John Thurston, Bob Chadbourne and Dutch Dresser did support the revisions, at least to the point of voting to put them before voters.

Brown noted later that most of the additional material in the revision consists of state and federal requirements builders or remodelers would have to follow in any case.

Committee member Stuart Crocker, an architect, told the selectmen the codes incorporated into the new ordinance reflect the minimum the town is allowed to have.

But the revision does include new fees for various categories of construction. Building permit fees, for example, would range from $10 (for less than $5,000 in new value) to $150 (value over $100,000).

Putnam said later the fees are consistent with those charged in other towns similar in size to Bethel.

Plumbing permit fees would run from $4 per fixture to $275 for a complete engineered system with variance. The new plumbing fees

Letters

LOOK HARD AT CUTS

To the Editor:

I agree with the two letters from Telstar Regional High School students printed in the March 29 issue. I am also a student at Telstar and I see how much the resources in question are used. I do agree that new technology will prepare students for the future, if it is used properly. But how often will these computers be available after school?

Presently at Telstar there are two computer labs and a handful of computers in some classrooms. Even with the equipment that is available within the school it is very difficult to gain access to a computer after school for typing papers.

As for during school hours, computer usage is limited then, too. Both of the computer labs are used for classes and the computers in the classroom are rarely used during study halls. I believe that there are two reasons for this. The computers in the classrooms are new (we just got them last year) and they are not compatible with most of the computers in the computer labs. For those reasons you cannot work on a paper one day in one room, save it, and work on it in the computer labs.

This new technology would replace three people who are valuable in the school environment. Without these people so many things will be lost. English classes, keyboarding classes, and some guidance programs will be a thing of the past. Without the keyboarding class I took last year I would not have been able to complete half the college-related materials I did this year, and the other half would have taken me twice as long. The Guidance Department has also helped me a great deal. Without them I would not be where I am today. I encourage community members to look into the programs that Telstar may lose for technology and see if it is worth the price to be paid.

CASINOS ARE A LOSER'S BET

To the Editor:

In regards to the article about the potential gambling hall in Albany, N.Y., April 5, the residents opposed to such an operation do indeed have reason to be concerned. Before throwing their support behind this type of enterprise, people should examine some cold, hard facts about casino-style gambling.

Atlantic City, N.J., a city rated 50th in per-capita crime, soared to first place after beginning casino operations. In 1989, Deadwood, S.D., legalized limited-stakes casino gambling and in 1992 reported a 60 percent increase in crime (the town had to double its police force). In Central City, Colo., assaults and thefts increased 400 percent in two years. Statistics show that casino gambling attracts pathological gamblers who commit crimes in order to pay for their addiction; in fact a survey of pathological gamblers who have sought treatment reveals that 75 percent had committed a felony because of gambling.

As to the children of problem gamblers, they perform more poorly academically, are more susceptible to drug and alcohol abuse, and more likely to suffer depression. There is a statistically higher incidence of child abuse in compulsive gamblers, their spouses and children.

All in all, casino gambling is devastating to both the family and the community, and every effort should be made to prevent this type of thing from taking root in our area.

True, there will always be those for whom the appeal of the dollar and the thrill of a big payoff, regardless of the damage done to friends and neighbors, but the truth is that an abundant life depends on a lot more than material possessions.

BLOODY ST. IS NOT A SPEEDWAY

To the Editor:

This letter concerns the event of Bloody Street, the shortcut from Route 26 to the East Bethel Road. I have lived in East Bethel all my life and I have tried to be a good neighbor. I would appreciate a little respect for my neighbors on this road.

I have no kids but, as most of you know, I have several nieces and nephews. I see no reason why their lives have to be put in danger if they are playing in my driveway.

Monday night I was taking my yard when a truck came through it to cut on the East Bethel Road. Not only was he speeding but he also braked too late and rutted up my driveway as well. My thoughts were what if there had been a child out there? The kid would have probably been killed. Do you people even care about the lives of others? Not to mention their rights. Well, just so you've been warned, I want whoever these people are to know I will call the cops if it keeps happening. I don't use your driveways for a speedway, so why should I have to let you tear up mine and leave ruts in it?

SIGN REGS A PLOY OF BAAL?

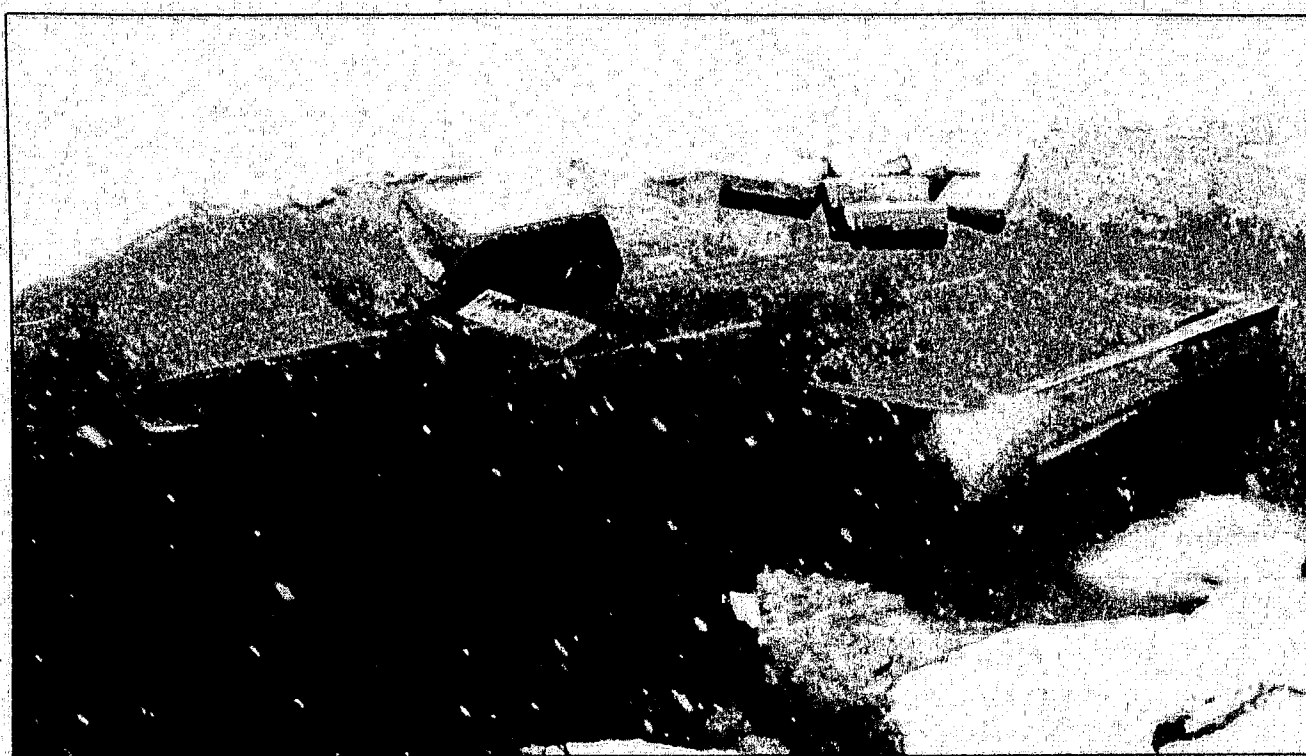

To the Editor:

What this town needs is more drive on the front page of the local paper as concerns signs, but last week I was intrigued by the subheading that noted that dark backgrounds would be the order of the day for internally illuminated signs.

Ah, a dark background, the perfect metaphor for another Baal-worshipping Bethel of another time.

Illuminating, isn't it.

PRIMESTAR GETS CHILLY RECEPTION—With its headlights still on and its windshield wipers still running, this Primestar service truck sits in South Pond after slipping off the Greenwood Road last week. The truck flipped over on its back, according to Greenwood Road Commissioner Alan Seames, then righted itself as it filled with water — allowing the driver to open the window and escape. Gaudreau's Repairs hauled the vehicle from the lake.

PITY THE POOR HISTORIAN

To the Editor:

The 29 March issue was a sheer delight. Especially the story on the skiway's plans for expansion, not to mention the annual dig at Riley.

However, I pity the future historian of Bethel, who, using The Citizen as a source, fails to note that 29 March is just a few days before 1 April.

tations in the color of the river water and odor emitted. He said most of his observations are where the Wild River meets the Androscoggin.

"There has not been as much fluctuation in recent years, though," he said.

Jim Chandler, district manager of the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District, suggested that the team also monitor higher air levels for bacteria, such as nitrates and nitrites, as they are good long-term indicators of water quality.

Jones agreed, adding that the water the variety of animals living in a body of water, the better the water quality.

Pollution sources

The team has also just started work on prioritizing pollution sources in the Bethel area. One area of concern is malfunctioning residential and commercial septic systems.

Pay hike

"There'll be a lot of teachers retiring out of the system in the next few years," he said.

Teacher negotiators Ellen Greeke, Wendy Ford, Tom Riley, and John Woodbury discussed their general philosophy of teacher compensation prior to the union's vote last week.

They said that in any given year, they try to achieve "something not less than a salary step scale that represents the state average for teachers, one year late," meaning what the state as a whole was paid in the previous year. They said they had not reached that level to date.

In the case of health benefits (through Blue Cross/Blue Shield), the union generally seeks the amount of money equal to the cost of insurance for a single adult with a child, again one year late.

For a teacher buying full family insurance, they said that amount represents about 60 percent of the full family policy.

Lowe, Brown opposed

School board member Jane Lowe of Bethel voted against the contract, saying she objected to the salary and benefit increases, as well as the number of sick days.

Lowe, an assistant vice president/loan officer at the Bethel Savings Bank, said, "The salaries are not realistic for people working nine or 10 months a year, when you look at other people working 12 months a year. My salary at the bank, with 17 years of experience, doesn't compare to teachers with the same experience. When there's two married teachers raking in the salary and benefits, they shouldn't cry poverty. There's people around here really crying poverty."

Regarding the benefit package, Lowe said, "I have no problem with picking up the premium for the employee, but not for the children or the spouse."

She said she receives $3,130 toward her personal insurance, but has to pay for her children herself.

Lowe also felt the sick days (15 a year, accumulating to a maximum of 160 next year and 165 the following) are unrealistic compared to others in the community.

Bethel director Merton Brown said he was also opposed to the number of accumulated sick days.

Supt. Ron Jenkins said he believes the large number of sick days actually encourages teachers not to use them.

"Teachers can get credit toward teaching time out of unused sick leave, and it can be applied toward their retirement, under the Maine State Retirement System," he said.

An agreement was also approved for educational technicians. Jenkins said they will receive 3 percent wage increases, along with an increase in health benefits.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

The life and work of Eva Bean (1895-1969) was the topic of discussion at the April meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held on Thursday evening, April 6. Society director Stanley R. Howe provided a brief sketch of her life. Born in East Bethel in 1895 (July 11) in a house built by Deacon Asa Kimball in 1799, the daughter of Eugene S. and Ella Brown Bean, she attended local schools, graduating from Gould Academy in 1913 and Colby College in 1917. She received her R.N. from Presbyterian Hospital in New York in 1922. For several years, she taught nursing in Paris, France. She later returned to Portland, where she was supervisor of nurses at Maine General Hospital. Her next job was as private nurse and governess for the J.M. Andrews family of Akron, Ohio, owners of the Quaker Oats Company.

Because of the onset of rheumatoid arthritis, she was forced to retire in 1934. Despite terrible pain and discomfort, she spent the rest of her life researching and studying local history. She completed "East Bethel Road" in 1959, and at the time of her death was working on a history of Oxford County. She was the leading founder of the Bethel Historical Society in 1966 and served as its first secretary until her death. A devoted graduate of Gould Academy, she spent many years working on a history of the Academy and served as secretary of the alumni association for many years. The centenary of her birth was also noted by several others.

Society member Margaret Joy Tibbets, former chairman of the Board of Trustees, praised Miss Bean for her humor, generosity, kindness, intelligence and industry. She also noted her remarkable courage to carry on despite her great suffering with such a thoroughly positive attitude.

Former trustee, Rosalind Chapman, a charter member, recalled Eva's admonition not to have programs exceed 30 minutes in the early days of the historical society.

Others from the audience possessed memories as well. Barbara Herriek Brown remembered what a role model she was in her decision to become a nurse. Owen Wright cited her generosity in always providing visitors with fudge, cookies, etc., to take home with them.

During the business portion of the meeting, president Charles Raymond announced that the next meeting would be held on May 4 and feature Richard Deans discussing the history of the Oxford County Fair, which observes its 150th anniversary this year. The Acquisition of the Month, "Early Families of Newfield, Maine" by Ruth Bridges Ayers, was announced by the president.

Board

Voting in favor of the contract were John Brown, Debra Dohrmann, and Wende Gray of Bethel, Sid Pew and Brad Thibodeau of Andover, Margaret Hand, Marcel Polak, and T.L. Magee of Woodstock, and Debbie Gilbert of Newry.

Opposed were Merton Brown and Jane Lowe of Bethel, Martin Hinkle of Newry, and Kellie Scotti of Andover.

Board members were told briefly by middle school principal Dick Blackman that this year's eighth grade Maine Educational Assessment (MEA) test scores are good. A more detailed presentation will be made at the next regular meeting.

Budget debate

The board continued discussion Monday on the proposed FY'96 budget, up 8.58 percent over FY'95.

Several parents and directors voiced their worries over the possible loss of three teachers at Telstar High School. The budget proposal would cut business, guidance, and English positions at the school. The money saved would go in part to upgrade computer offerings at the middle school.

Parents said cutting the business and guidance positions would mean the loss of a growing Future Business Leaders of America program, as well as needed counseling for high school students.

Newry director Debbie Gilbert and Brown were concerned that cuts at the high school would hurt the middle school. TMS principal Dick Blackman had told the board a sixth grade creative English class could be affected, if a teacher has to be shifted up to the high school.

"We need to know the trickle-down effect. That's a program that means a lot to a lot of kids. I've talked to some fifth-graders who were so looking forward to it," Brown said.

Bethel director Jane Lowe also worried about the loss of the guidance position, and asked administrators to apply for federal grant money to bring buildings into compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, to save district money.

She also questioned purchasing two new school busses next year, as called for in the budget proposal.

"It would be nice to have everything we want, but I think we need to look at what we can delete," she said. Business manager Bruce Powell said the district would give up $8,000 to $10,000 in state subsidy by foregoing the second bus, and would fall behind its bus replacement schedule, which calls for replacement of a bus after 10-12 years.

Hand supported the administrators' proposal. "Bus repairs cost money, too. Those teacher cuts were because of lower enrollments. I find it incredible we would want to keep teachers we don't need, and not buy busses we do need."

"We talk about tax money. I think we should listen to the administrators' recommendation to save money. I have a problem with putting kids on busses that may not be safe," she said.

The board also asked administrators to bring back a proposal to add another music teacher at the elementary level.

The next budget workshop is April 17 at 7 p.m. at the Telstar Library.

Absent from Monday's meeting were Greenwood directors Ray Harrington and Susan Gordon, and Bethel director Fran Head.

Briefly

Jury finds for Chapman in slander suit

SOUTH PARIS--An Oxford County Superior Court jury found in favor of Raymond Chapman Monday, in the case of a slander suit brought against him by Scott Pike. Both men are from Gilead. The suit stemmed from comments Chapman allegedly made in 1993 when his son David was being tried for the October 1992 shotgun slaying of Richard Hutchins. David Chapman was convicted of the murder and sentenced to 45 years in prison. Pike later sued Raymond Chapman, alleging that he had accused Pike of being the real killer. But the eight-member jury was unanimous Monday in finding in favor of Chapman. Following the verdict, his attorney, Valerie Stanfill of Berman & Simmons, said her client had viewed the charges as "frivolous from the beginning."

Fine for South Pond sedimentation

GREENWOOD--The Maine Department of Environmental Protection has imposed a fine of $1,000 on Jerome Holt of Bethel for having caused sedimentation in South Pond -- a violation of the state's Protection and Improvement of Waters Act. Rather than collect the fine in cash, the DEP is asking Holt's Eagle Earthwork Corporation to propose a $1,000 water quality improvement project near the lake. In addition, Holt is required to remove the sediment that has accumulated in the pond as a result of his nearby logging work. William Cook, of the DEP Bureau of Land and Water Quality, said last week that Holt has already controlled most of the erosion coming from the logging site. Holt has "done a lot of good work up top," Cook said.

Bethel loses on grant

BETHEL--An application for a $4,500 Community Development Block Grant to hire a coordinator for a Bethel Station-related project has been rejected. The person would have been responsible for planning a strong linkage between the Bethel Station development and businesses on upper Main Street. "This is not a major problem," town manager Madeleine Henley said last week, "we just won't hire the person to plan that connection. It can be done by other means." Henley said the town has received the contract for a second grant of $3,700, to be used to pay technicians to handle the grant process for Phase II of the Economic Development Infrastructure grant of $400,000, which Henley feels confident the town will receive.

Woodstock to hold road hearing

WOODSTOCK--Selectmen last week set May 2 for a public hearing concerning possible winter road closings. Roads being considered for closing are the Concord Pond Road from the Peru to Woodstock line, the Shagg Pond Road from the Concord Pond Road to Granite Ledge, the section of the Shagg Pond Road from Scott Kendall's to the Granite Ledge, and Billing's Hill from Peter Rosenberg's to the Russ Farm turn, according to town manager Vern Maxfield. The roads have been closed to winter maintenance for several years, but the state requires closings to be reviewed periodically.

Andover lawsuit settled

ANDOVER--Selectmen announced last week that a settlement had been reached in a lawsuit brought against the town by former administrative assistant Rebecca Schachter. A statement by selectmen said that a compromise acceptable to both parties had been reached. They refused to disclose the amount of the settlement. The town had no liability insurance to cover the case, although such insurance was later taken out.

Stove fire causes smoke damage

BETHEL--A fire caused by an overheated stove resulted in smoke damage at a mobile home on the East Bethel Rd. Wednesday. Bethel fire chief Jim Young said a cloth near the stove at Cheryl Daye's home caught fire first. The flames then spread to a wooden wall nearby. Daye and a friend put water on the fire, and had it controlled by the time the fire department arrived, Young said. "She lucked out," he said of Daye.

Newry selectmen meet

NEWRY--Town administrative assistant Sylvia Gray is expected to take on the duties of secretary to the Planning Board, according to selectman Wendy Hanson. Hanson said the board has not been able to find a secretary until now. Gray will assume the duties as part of her present position. Hanson also informed selectmen at their Tuesday meeting that Joe Alvin had been elected Planning Board chairman at the April 5 meeting. Selectmen also decided to hire someone to do spring cleanup around the town office. It was decided as well that the town's recreation committee would take over sponsorship of the end-of-the-school-year trip, an event funded until now by the Newry Mothers' Club.

Sugarloaf closing early

CARRABASSETT VALLEY--Sugarloaf/USA will close early this year because of bad ski weather and a still-sagging economy, President Warren Cook said last week. The resort will close April 17. It usually stays open until late April or early May. "People just aren't skiing. Last year over this past weekend we had 5,700 cars in our parking lot, compared to 3,700 this year," Cook said. He also said there will be layoffs and cutbacks at the resort to recoup losses.

Schools to dial more cheaply

LEWISTON--Gov. Angus King announced last week that NYNEX will cut long-distance rates for public schools by two-thirds, drastically cutting the cost of both computer and voice communications. NYNEX has also agreed to install state-of-the-art fiber optic cables in virtually every public high school, permitting instant, interactive communication. Participating schools will be asked to pay an annual fee of $24,000, plus pay its own maintenance costs. The technology will allow, for example, students at one high school to take a course at another without leaving the building. Teacher training programs could also be shared among districts and schools.

1994 deer kill down

AUGUSTA--The deer kill for 1994 declined over the previous year, according to deer biologist Gerry Lavigne of the Maine Dept. of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. During the regular firearms season, the buck kill declined 5 percent, while the antlerless deer kill declined 18 percent. Lavigne attributed the buck decline to above-average winter losses. But he said the decline in doe and fawn harvests reflects a 25 percent reduction in Any-Deer permit allocations. Lavigne also said there was a 10 percent decline in the wintering deer population since 1993, due to above average losses during the 1993-94 winter.

Shelters serving more people

AUGUSTA--Maine's emergency homeless shelters served significantly more clients in 1994 than in 1993, and for longer periods of time, according to the Maine State Housing Authority. The 34 shelters responding to an MSHA survey reported an increase in clients of 7 percent. Director David Lakari said persons with mental illness make up a sizeable portion of clients. He said the deinstitutionalization of state mental health centers will result in the need for 3,000 additional affordable housing units within the next few years. Figures also indicate that more families are using shelters than in the past, and they generally remain there longer than single persons because it is harder for them to find suitable housing. MSHA plans to expand efforts to prevent homelessness, including a major effort to rehabilitate existing, sub-standard housing owned by very low income people. The agency will also apply for a $10 million grant from the federal Dept. of Housing and Urban Development to provide statewide services to the homeless.

From the Bethel Police log:

Breaking up is hard on cars

At 7 p.m. on April 5 an Albany resident reported he had just departed his residence on the Hunt's Mills Road business owner reported that when he went to breakfast he observed his "Open" flag was missing. He observed where a vehicle had turned into the driveway and left tire marks. He felt it was a small vehicle that had entered the property, and later contacted police with a drawing of the tire print. The flag was valued at $20.

Also on April 5

Police received a number of reports of downed tree limbs, trees, and electrical wires. Wire damage was reported on Paradise Street, Vernon Street, and Broad Street Extension. A tree also fell in the road on the back side of Grover Hill Road.

Sunday, April 9

At 9:50 a.m. a Walker's Mills Road business owner reported that when he went to breakfast he observed his "Open" flag was missing. He observed where a vehicle had turned into the driveway and left tire marks. He felt it was a small vehicle that had entered the property, and later contacted police with a drawing of the tire print. The flag was valued at $20.

Saturday, April 8

At 11 p.m. a Sunday Valley Acres resident reported that a medium-sized truck had driven up his driveway. When he turned on the outside light, the truck sped away at a high rate of speed. The complainant chased it but couldn't overtake it. He felt it was suspicious because he lives at the end of a dead-end road, and his residence had been the scene of a burglary two or three months ago. Police planned additional patrolling of the area.

Friday, April 7

At 4:45 p.m. a Bryant Pond resident and a Bethel resident had their skateboards confiscated for 30 days.

At 10:34 p.m. a South Paris resident reported an altercation had occurred at a residence on Route 26. He said the occupant was intoxicated and had assaulted the complainant's daughter by punching her in the lower abdomen with a closed fist. He then pushed her down to take the car keys, and verbally threatened the complainant. The complainant took his family members to his South Paris home. He said his daughter would not file a complaint as she feared further retaliation. Police provided the family members with blank statement forms, and upon their return charges would be filed.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity.

TAXES

Strategy #15 - Consider taxes in choosing your business entity

If you are starting a new business, you must decide which legal structure is best for your business.
If you are already in business, you should periodically reevaluate your business form.

You may choose to operate your business as a sole proprietorship, a partnership, a regular corporation, an S corporation, or, in an increasing number of states, as a limited liability company or partnership. Your choice will affect how the business's income is taxed, what pension plan options you have, and what fringe benefits you can deduct. Nontax consequences should also be considered in selecting or reviewing your entity choice. For assistance in this area, contact our office.

Pay-per-bag

for a freebie, and will dump bags in (someone else's) dumpster," said Dwight Merrill, owner of D&E Sanitation, which picks up household and business trash in town.

Others at the meeting focused on the bottom line -- which arrangement would cost least.

Schleiper said she couldn't say which option would be least expensive, but pay-per-bag generally reduced the waste stream by 25 percent, due to increased recycling.

And, selectman John Thurston noted, "The only way one dollar is going to be saved in any of these options is to increase recycling."

Currently, recycling is paying for itself -- that is, what the town pays to the Oxford County Regional Solid Waste Corp. is offset by what it saves in tipping and hauling fees.

Recycling would be an even better deal for the town if residents would recycle more. Bethel's current recycling rate is one of the lowest among the OCSRWC towns.

But there have been some recycling successes. Schleiper said that since September Merrill had taken 41 tons of corrugated cardboard out of the waste stream, saving the town approximately $3,000.

At the conclusion of the meeting an informal vote was held, and pay-per-bag was the big loser.

Nine voters opted to keep the present system, and six favored the so-called "Barnard" plan. Only two voters liked the pay-per-bag option.

But the results didn't surprise or discourage Art Gilbert, chairman of the selectmen and a supporter of some arrangement that will take solid-waste disposal costs out of the tax base and put them on those who generate the waste.

"I think these kind of meetings bring out the people who are opposed to recycling," he said.

The selectmen are expected to take the matter up again at their next meeting. They have the authority to impose a paper bag or one of the other options listed at the meeting, but they are unlikely to take such a move without some show of support from the town.

Selectman Don Dooen said at the meeting that he had not yet made up his own mind on the matter, but the question had been decided. "And it's the most equitable way to find what is already an unbalanced problem."

GETTING BIG AIR

Professional and amateur freestyle skiers showed off their twisters, spreads, backscratches, and daffies at Sunday River's annual Bust 'n Burn competition on White Heat this past weekend. The skiers were judged on the quantity and quality of their turns, their speed, their performance of aerial maneuvers, and their overall ability. In the Amateur category, Sunday River Freestyle Team ace Ben Wheeler beat teammate Kevin Gagne. Here, Canadian Ski Team member Pierre Forget, demonstrates an inverted maneuver.

follow the state fee schedule to take effect May 1 -- that is, builders would have to pay them whether or not they are included in the Bethel ordinance.

The revision also calls for a 10-foot minimum setback from side and rear property lines. The setback was included in the interest of fire safety, Brown said.

The public hearing on the proposed revision is tentatively set for sometime in mid-May, when all ordinance revisions on this year's Town Meeting warrant will face public scrutiny.

The committee that drafted the revised ordinance include -- in addition to Putnam, Crockett and Brown -- Francis Dumont, Neil Donovan and David Brown.

Bicentennial Committee notes:

By JUNE ABBOTT

The committee held a meeting on Sunday evening, April 9, at the home of Dr. Stanley Howe. The completion of committees to cover the many activities planned for this celebration was discussed. Full participation of the community is essential and many volunteers have offered their services. The committee is hoping to find someone who would be interested in filling the chair of the Food and Refreshment Committee. This would involve more coordination than cooking. There are to be events requiring food and suppers throughout the years' festivities. A committee will be necessary to coordinate the volunteers and keep the menus varied. The Public Safety/Logistics Committee is also in need of someone who can direct parking needs, arrange road closures for parades, and direct other essential services. Please contact the Bethel Bicentennial Committee, if you can help with these committees.

The committee is in process of creating some fundraising items. A poster of Bethel barns is being considered. Sally Taylor brought a preliminary collection of pictures and the committee agreed to continue to study the project. The Bethel Calendar is also in further development. The Calendar Committee is looking for interested sponsors to be included in this Bicentennial 1996 Calendar. Please contact Danna Brown-Nickerson to be a part of this printed memory of Bethel's celebration.

The Fashion Show Committee is hard at work in preparation for the grand showing of Bethel's fashions-through-the-years. So far 75 gowns have been donated for use at the presentation on May 20, at the Gehring House. There will be a preview each week in the window of the Fashion Basket. Tickets will be available soon at Preb's and the Fashion Basket.

The next Bethel Bicentennial Committee meeting will be on April 23, 7 p.m., at Stan Howe's home on Broad Street. The committee can be reached at P.O. Box 995, Bethel, ME 04217-0995.

COUNTY GREENS TO MEET

The Oxford County Green Party will hold an organizational and informational meeting Tuesday, April 18, at 6 p.m. at the University Extension Agency building on Olson Road in South Paris.

Jonathan Carter, the Green's 1994 candidate for governor, will lead a discussion regarding party organization. Carter currently serves as the Maine Green Party's statewide coordinator.

The Green Party became a registered political party in Maine following last November's election, by taking greater than 5 percent of the votes cast in the statewide election.

WE KEEP AMERICA RUNNING.

Andover

by Karen McKay

The First Congregational Church invites all to share in worship during this Easter season. Maundy Thursday services will be on March 13 at 5:30 p.m. with the Last Supper in the CEB followed by a garden meditation at 6:45 p.m. On Friday, March 14, the Good Friday service will begin at 7 p.m. Easter Sunday services begin at 6:30 a.m. with the Sunrise Service in the church, followed by the Easter breakfast at 7 in the CEB. The morning worship service begins at 10 a.m.

In celebration of National Library Week the library will host several presentations on Native Americans. All adults and children are invited to attend the programs beginning at 1:30 p.m. with Sara Wight's presentation on "Our Cultural Heritage."

This will be a hands-on learning experience of the Native American way of life including topics such as foods, clothing, jewelry, language and art. Beginning at 3 p.m., Archer Poir Jr. will present a program on Native American artifacts. This presentation will include stories on the first Americans -- the Paleo Man through the Archaic period and ending with the ceramic phase of Indian life. Come enjoy these presentations by our local historians.

The library will also be hosting Amnesty Week, April 9-15. No fines will be charged on overdue books. Learn more about the Abused Woman's Advocacy Program at the library on Wednesday, April 12, at 6:30 p.m. All the programs are free and open to the public.

Keep in mind that the community yard and craft sale will be held on June 17. The junk that you discover while spring cleaning may be someone else's treasure.

Robert Swain and Kerry Meisner of Mexico recently returned from a 6,900 mile, 11-day round trip to Arlington, Washington.

I can't believe we've been hit by cold weather again! The snow we received yesterday made me extremely angry, and the wind practically blew my sister and me up the road as we walked home.

The Silvers left on Sunday for their trip to Florida. Joelle and Errol were extremely excited, and couldn't wait to get to Disney World.

On Friday, there was a hymn sing at the North Woodstock Meeting House.

Herschel Abbott is in North Woodstock for a short time. George Haines paid a visit to Herschel on Wednesday, and Lisa stopped by to visit with me.

Linda Tyler paid a visit to Emma and Lee Billings on Tuesday, and the three of them went for a ride.

My brother Jason turned 16 this past weekend.

That's it from North Woodstock this week!

Bryant Pond

by Alice Hoyt

Curator Larry Billings has given the Historical Society a glass figurine and a booklet on the gowns of the First Ladies in the Smithsonian Museum. The historical museum is an interesting place that tries to recreate things from our past. There is so much worth remembering. The society thanks those who give financial support and encouragement to the organization. It means so much, and though they cannot be perfect, society members do the best they can in return.

Each week is Bryant Pond hour on Tuesday at 4 p.m. on Channel IV T.V. Things coming up at the Baptist Church are: April 13, Easter Good News Club; Good Friday service on April 14; Easter Sunrise service on April 14; Easter Sunrise services are: Sunday School, 9:15 a.m.; morning service, 10:30 a.m.; and evening service, 6 p.m.

Maggie and Joseph Hoyt visited their father, James Hoyt, over the weekend. Sunday dinner guests at the Ken Hoyts were Beatrice Farnum, JoAnn, David, Ray and Shawn Crockett, James, Joseph and Maggie Hoyt.

Guests of Beatrice Farnum on Sunday were Robert, Althea, Keith, Jenny and Danny Stevens. Sunday evening, Helen Chase, Leatrice and John Chase visited her mother, Beatrice Farnum, and sister and husband, Alice and Ken Hoyt.

Franklin Grange 124 met on Monday, April 3, for Past Masters' and Past Lecturers' Night with a 6:30 p.m. supper and 38 present. Officers were as follows: Master, Loretta Hall; Overseer, Richard Felt; Lecturer, Louis Marcotte; Chaplain, Roy Day; Steward, Edwin Howe; A.S., Russell Yates; L.A.S., Peggy Blake; G.K., Harry Boyer; Treasurer, Lettie Brooks; Secretary, Connie Tullis; Ceres, Roberta Ramey; Pomona, Betty Kerr; Flora, Lucy Burgess; Exec. Committee, John Howe and Gordon Abbott; CWA, Priscilla Jusard, Althea Fish, and Gloria Abbott. Program: welcome, Richard Felt; response, Russell Yates; song by all; opening thought, Louis Marcotte; piano solos, Althea Fish; skit, Gloria and Gordon Abbott; the assistants escorted Louis Woodworth to the altar and presented a card and Happy Birthday was sung to him -- it was his 91st birthday; Harry Boyer sang a couple songs; quiz on presidents by Lucy Burgess; winners were Loretta Hall and Olive Risko; Dot Canwell whistled and Richard Felt played his harmonica; skit, Russell Yates, Peggy Blake and Richard Felt. Next meeting, Monday, April 17, will be an open meeting honoring the Community Service Award. The public is invited to attend the meeting which starts at 7:30 p.m., with refreshments after the meeting. Sympathy is extended to the Yates family and all of Viva Whitman's family in her death.

Curator Larry Billings has given some prints of works by famous artists to the Historical Society. He has arranged them in a notebook.

The Woodstock Extension will meet on Wednesday, April 19, at the Town Complex at 1 p.m. The program will feature "Year of the Family" with Wendy Legg Pollock as leader. There will be a tasting party.

Songo Pond

by Alice Kinball

The high winds of the past two days have opened up this end of the pond so it's free of ice as far as I can see from here, but there's still a bit at the south end. The wind also knocked out electric power in this area for several hours on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Tanguay have returned to their home across the pond after enjoying the past three months at Myrtle Beach, S.C. They were glad to see so much open water so quickly.

John Kalls also has returned to his Songo home after spending the winter in Florida.

I spent Sunday night with the Adamses in Hallowell. Harbice drove me to Hallowell for my blood test and home later.

It's time to find everyone needs a little bit of luck.

North Newry

by
Gil Seely

Three members of the "Newry Bowling Gang" braved the cold and wind and went to the Oxford Lanes, Rumford, one day last week: Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark and Gil Seely. Rona Powers was a guest. Karlene was high on the triples and singles with one string of 109. She had three spares and one strike. Betsy had three spares and Gil had four spares.

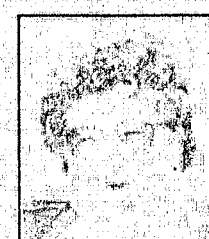

A gentle reminder that the Easter Sunrise Service will be at Mother Walker Falls on Sunday, April 16, at 7 a.m., followed by a potluck breakfast at Owen and Sue Wight's, at 7:30 a.m. Everyone is welcome to participate. There will also be a service later, 9 a.m., at the Newry Community Church. Come one, come all!

"Good Friday"... And thus He had lived, and thus the world rewarded Him! For lies and baseness, for selfish greed and destructive ambition, for guile and wealth and mean compliance, the world has a crown, for perfect holiness it has the cross! The darkness quenched the Light. His own disowned Him. They had repaid by hatred that life and love, envy, malice, slander, false witness, had done its work... Jesus had been excommunicated as a fugitive, with a price on his head, insulted, spit upon, mocked, crowned with thorns, thus had the world shown its gratitude to its Redeemer... And the end was here! After thirty hours of agony, Jesus was hanging upon the cross... could there be any greater proof of man's ruin than the fact that this was the sole reward which was required to immeasurable love? Amen to that...

"Briefly" -- Cheers to Parker Gray, on being first in his age category at Mt. Snow, Vt., in the giant slalom. Gray is already ranked ninth in the nation in the super-G event. He is a Gould Academy student, and the son of Sylvia and Don Gray here in North Newry.

Frances Grant is having a new steel roof put on her barn. The Fox Bros. are doing the work.

Carolyn Heino came home from Stephens Memorial Hospital today after having surgery. She is doing quite well.

Lawrence and Mildred Dadmun from Damariscotta were in town on Sunday visiting friends in the area.

Albert Fox has a new van. Jackie Jones has traded pick-up for a van. Carole Nelson has traded vans. It seems as if everyone is trading. It must be Spring Fever, although today doesn't feel like spring. It was down to 10 above zero this morning and the wind is blowing up a gale.

On Sunday, the Stoneham Volunteer Firemen burned down the old Betty Stearns' home for their practice session. It is sad to see these old homes go. Four fire companies were there to participate.

Dale and Matthew Nelson went to Sugarloaf last Sunday skiing, and they reported that it was fun.

Several people in town have been smelling already and have gotten some nice smells.

Several members of the community cleaned the church vestry this past week.

Nate and Eleanor Smith are in the process of moving to Waterford Acres, as they have sold their house here in town.

A representative from Prime Star Satellite was around town today putting in new replacement boxes.

April, as a rule, we do not expect very much of the month in the way of real warmth. The nights are still cold and spots of snow are to be found until the last of the month. I think it's a month seeming unable to make up its mind as to being either season, winter or spring. If there is a disagreeable month in Maine, April might take first place. But there are pleasures if they are looked for, some of which are: the return of some birds, smelting time, frogs are peeping, and band leaders would do well to listen to their harmonizing music. Their music is that of Nature, to brighten up an otherwise drab month to some. Right now, April 5th, it does look more like February after the snowstorm yesterday.

But it will not last for long and then I'll hear once more the magical flight song of the woodcock, that wonderful time of spring's beginning. That will cover yesterday's tempestuous day now so vivid in my mind.

I had news a few days ago that my sister, Leona, entered a hospital in Houston, Texas, for heart surgery. She is the fourth in my family to have a valve replacement. David, Mary and Ann Holt were at the farm on Sunday.

Stan Wilson's children, Alan and daughter Susie, and daughter Vicki and her daughter Sonya visited from Portland on April 1 and 2.

Millie and Dana Jackson celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on April 7.

The weather last week was winter. Low temps and high winds made for a very cold day on April 5.

Elderwood Manor

by Florence Hall
Michael Stowell, Lovettsville, Va., and sister Suzanne, Bethel, visited at Florence Hall's and Gertrude Hutchins' recently. Florence and Gertrude went on the bus to Rumford on Wednesday. Gertrude attended the lunch at school on Thursday. Paula Hall and daughter Kayla, Marie Hall and son Louis came on Saturday to take Aunt Florence to see Dr. Greco in Bethel. Thought of the Day: Yesterday's political promises are today's taxes.

West Bethel

by Constance Broadbent
We were saddened to learn of your mother's death. The news greeted us when we returned the other day from a trip to Lowell. I wish that we had heard while we were in the 'neighborhood'. We would have stopped by to be your friend and to help you in the farewell process. I trust that Mr. Brasco guided you through the procedure with his perennial good will. And I know that you and your sisters and all the family have special memories: these will sustain you as you deal with the grieving. Why were we in Lowell, you ask? Your friend and classmate, Donald the maker of music, and his new friends in four parts part-parted in a competition of Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts Barbershop quartets and choruses. They (representing the Norway/South Paris Chapter of S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.) were the smallest group to brave the footlights on the stage of the Lowell Auditorium, but the ten of them (they've recently buried two of their members, and several others are still in their Florida mode, poor things) sang their best and sounded great. So what if the other groups numbered in the forties and fifties and seventies and eighties! This little balding band of yellow-sweatered songsters belted out their couple of tunes with gusto and with a confidence that belied their small number. The audience responded with a roar of applause, and that made them feel that the trip was worthwhile.

We even stayed on for an extra few days so that his nibs and 'Old Paul O'Donnell' could attend what would be, for them, their last hockey game in the Boston Garden, courtesy of the company tickets of 'Young Paul O'Donnell'. I, in the meantime, was losing my battle to resist a second round of the cold/sinus attack and couldn't fully enjoy a visit with our 'grandchildren', Christopher and Jen. I fell victim to the stuffy nose, puffy eyes, coughing, swollen achy head feeling, and spent the next week and a half doctoring myself with each and every cold-fighting medicine and method known to man. Donald the singer became Donald the nurse for the second time this winter (I can't call it spring yet, since we just had snow and freezing temperatures and more are predicted for tomorrow). He bundled me into the car and whisked me home to the warm hearth and the warm bed and the warm chicken soup. And just today, I realize, I've spent a whole waking day free of that fuzzy feeling that makes you think that someone has inflated your head with a bicycle pump. Ahh...it's the little things that matter!

Speaking of Florida mode... Linda and Reggie Westleigh (our friends from the village...you'd know them by now if you and the Kezers had made the off-promised trip) have just returned from a fantasy vacation on the grounds of Disneyworld. While we were blowing our noses and our snow piles, they basked at poolside, dined and dallied with the ducks and the mice, and suffered through oppressive temperatures that hovered in the low to mid eighties! Poor dears!

But it's back to business and life in a small village. In the next week we of the Union Church Choir, including one with a tail, will sing our two part harmony for the Palm Sunday service, the Maundy Thursday service, and the Easter service. And before we dress for church on Easter Sunday, we'll gather at the Grover farm for our annual sunrise service and breakfast. This is now a tradition... since we have managed to repeat the ritual for three or is it four Easter's running... weather notwithstanding. We face the rising sun whether we can see it or not, in the wee hours of the April morning, listen to the inspiring tones of our friend and pastor John Williams, and raise our voices in prayer and in song for the peace and understanding that we wish for the universe. It's truly a movable feast! We've come a long way since the Wallum High Chorus, Missy!

Now... if you want to know what else you're missing by being there instead of here... the bluebirds are back on the Flat Road. They can be seen perched on the wires, and flitting about the myriad birdhouses and built for them all around the village. The bird band has certainly brought the garden out of hibernation... they've been among the muscivores for the last few days, but emerged only on cue when the first flakes fell). The crociti poke their green arms upward in gingerly fashion in a few protected places... for the most part the earth and all that's in it are still brown and reluctant to move heavenward just yet. The rivers and ponds, brooks and streams have given up all but a few crystals of ice... they boil and churn in anticipation of a freshet or two. The farmers who engage in maple syruping have been tapping and gathering, boiling and churning during the warm spell. The three sheep up back are now the six sheep up back... hope the fences hold. The neighborhood hosts yet another opening of yet another dining place... aptly dubbed, The Local Eatery. We'll check out the breakfast menu on Saturday and let you know if you should rush right up... And now for the 'piece-de-resistance', as they say in Paris, or is it South Paris...

As I sat reading in the sunroom this afternoon, I sensed movement out of the corner of my eye. Carefully I turned toward the motion, and there, only a few feet away, and just on the other side of the sliding glass door, lumbered a portly woodcock. He or she, whichever the case may be, stepped and bounced along the walkway by the door and up along the garden's edge to the fence that defines it. He moved slowly, dipping his very long beak every so often, stabbing the cold but softened earth in search of the creatures of his diet, unaware that he was being observed by one very curious birder. He was a very peculiar looking fellow, with his roundness perched on long, thin legs, and his pinnocchio nose. The plump brown body bounced with each step, as if he were walking on 'iron shoes'. All of this I tried to record in my mind's eye as he took flight... which he did, but I was afraid to get Donald's attention, maybe it would have been better if I had tipped off to find former life... some days just the same old grosbeaks, other days... the woodcock wanders into view! One never knows.

Give serious thought to a couple of nights in our hilly haven. Call Nancy and Dick. Plan a visit before the fortuitous arrival of the lucky new owners, whoever they may be. Leave your ciggies at home; we don't do smoke of any kind any more, thank you very much. Bring your walking shoes... we'll provide the shillelaghs.... Oh! I almost forgot! Donald sat at the Red Top diner in the company of a few dozen Boston firefighters recently. Guess who sipped his coffee two seats away and almost didn't get recognized?... The one and only Fred Foppiano, that's who! Is this a small world, or what!... Of course, I missed the whole thing... it happened during my REM sleep. Donald says that Fred hasn't changed... which means that he still looks like Paul Newman!... Damn!

Regards and condolences to all the family... Hugs to Richard... Call soon. Love, CB

BRYANT POND GIRL WINS MEDAL FOR BALLET

Donna Lawrence of Bryant Pond won a Silver Medal in the category of Individual Drama at the Eastern Regional Festival of Life, according to the Rev. John Grant, pastor of the Bethel Church of the Nazarene, where she is a member and regular attendee.

Donna performed a personally choreographed ballet based on the song "The Lord's Prayer."

Donna is the daughter of Ms. Rebecca Lawrence and Mr. Donald Lawrence, both of Bryant Pond, and was sponsored by the Jackson-Silver American Legion Post 68 of Locke Mills. In all, the Post sponsored a total of five people to the event, which took place March 15-17 at Eastern Nazarene College, Quincy, Mass.

MHS' BETSY DOYON, PAULA WHEELER HONORED

Betsy Doyon and Paula Wheeler of Maine Handicapped Skiing have been named to the Blaine House Conference on Volunteerism Committee.

The 1995 Blaine House Conference on Volunteerism has been set for Oct. 10 at the Augusta Civic Center.

For more information on the conference and/or the committee, please contact Maine Volunteer Connection, P.O. Box 1442, Rockland, ME 04841, or call 594-2636.

NOTES FROM

Adult Education

April will bring several new courses and programs to the Adult Education program in the Telstar Region. To enroll in any of the programs, call the office at 824-2780.

A workshop on Herbs to Relieve Stress will be held at Telstar High School on Monday, April 24, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Corinne Martin, a certified clinical herbalist from Bridgton, will present the session which will cover nutritional patterns, toning systems, and herbs to deal with specific illnesses. The fee is $5.

A Red Cross course in CPR will begin on Thursday, April 20, at the Bethel Area Health Center from 6 to 9 p.m. with Jeannine Thornton. The class will meet for two weeks. The fee is $25. For those in need of CPS recertification, there will be a one-week session meeting at the health center on Thursday, April 13, from 6 to 9 p.m., for $15. These sessions have limited enrollment.

Maine Driving Dynamics, a defensive driving course, will be held at Telstar High School on Monday, April 24, and Wednesday, April 26, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. with Eddy Naples of NOVA. The course in collision avoidance and safety is worth three license points and often reduced car insurance rates. The fee is $25, with those over 65 paying $5.

GED preparation and testing is available throughout April and May at the Adult Learning Center, with the exception of the week of April 17. Anyone who is interested should contact the Adult Education office to schedule an appointment. Adult Education graduation is set for Tuesday, May 31, with a deadline of May 5 for completion of the Writing Skills portion of the GED test. The learning center will be open through June 15, and will hold a summer session from July 5 through Aug. 10 for high school completion, including diploma and GED, as well as for academic brush-up for college entrance.

The Adult Education office will be open during the week of April school vacation. ITV classes for the University of Maine will meet as usual. Many adult education classes will not be held during vacation week; however, computer classes at the learning center taught by Brenda Eastman and Ruth Brown will meet, as will the dog obedience classes at Telstar.

Mary's Pizza gets national attention
Article by John Walsh
The Berlin Daily Sun
Featured in Viva Italia Magazine
Family Owned and Operated Since 1947
Authentic Homemade PIZZA & PASTA
Smoke-Free Dining
752-6150
9 Cascade Flats
Gorham, NH 03581
GORHAM- Jim Ferrante is justly proud that his restaurant, Mary's Pizza, was the subject of a recent full page article in the trade magazine of the National Pizza and Pasta Association, Viva Italia.
Entitled Viva New England, the article recounts the history of the restaurant, which was founded in the kitchen of Jim's grandmother, Mary Ferrante, in 1947. It was subsequently operated by Jim's parents until 1989, when Jim and his wife Maggie, the third generation of the Ferrante family, took over.
In the article, Ferrante tells how the restaurant was established to provide work during the lean years following World War II. It soon outgrew Mary Ferrante's kitchen and the neighboring gas station was purchased and remodeled to meet the demands of the growing business. Nothing of those humble beginnings can be observed in the shining and spotless kitchen and dining room of the present building.
While the establishment is well known to residents of the area, Ferrante has to compete with the 11 other restaurants in the area that sell pizza, some of which are more prominently located. In the article he explains how he utilizes billboards and a smaller version of the regular menu at hotels and motels in the area to reach the travelling public. He says that the restaurant gets referrals because "the hotels know we have a clean operation with a smoke-free atmosphere and a quality product."
While Ferrante and his wife spend 70 to 75 hours per week running the restaurant, he has found the time to attend the national conventions of the National Pizza and Pasta Association to keep current with the latest techniques of the industry. Last year, he went to the convention in Orlando, Florida, as a trainer. This year he plans to attend the one in Boston, Mass., in July as a trainee in the seminars being offered.
Ferrante is also proud to have been included in the AAA Tour Guide for Northern New England as one of the three restaurants in Gorham in its listing. Noting that expansion is expensive, Ferrante hopes to purchase a mobile unit and go to the fairs and other special events that are held locally. Soon it may be possible to purchase a slice of Mary's pizza or a dish of hand cut pasta on the road. That could lead to even more customers finding their way to Cascade Flats and the door of Mary's Pizza.

FRIENDS OF TMS

The Friends of Telstar Middle School are planning end-of-the-year activities for all three classes at the school. A large turnout of parents and students met on April 5 and discussed potential trips, such as a Sea Dogs game, canoeing, Casco Bay ferry ride, Aditash water slide, art museum, and shopping mall/movie.

A Carnival Night will be held on May 12 at Telstar, possibly to include roller blading, music, volleyball, tie-dyeing, and refreshments.

Also at the meeting, Principal Dick Blackman and teachers Mike Gilbert, Karen Bean, and Deborah Piccarillo described their recent trip to Providence, R.I., to attend the New England League of Middle Schools conference. Among topics discussed at the conference was a plan to expand middle school teaching teams to better utilize parents.

Dick Blackman reported that fifth- and sixth-grade teachers have taken a day to shadow each other, in order to better prepare students for the transition to middle school. School board member Debbie Gilbert urged parents to attend budget workshops to voice their opinions. Parents were told that the newest computers at TMS are seven years old, and updated ones are badly needed.

The next meeting is May 3 at 7 p.m. at the Telstar Library.

G'WOOD BALL SIGN-UPS

Greenwood baseball and softball sign-ups will be held on Saturday, April 15, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the town office.

Registration fees are $5 for individuals and $10 for two or more family members. Participants must sign up to be able to play.

Boys: 7-9, Farm League; 10-12, Bambino; 13-15, Babe Ruth. Girls: 7-9 Farm League; 10-12, Little League; 13-17, Senior League.

For more information contact Angie Hebert at 836-2817 or Herb Dunham at 665-2745.

News from the The Bethel Library

Despite the recent cold, wintry weather, we are thinking ahead and planning the Summer Reading Program at the Bethel Library. We have to think ahead: the field trip this year will be a Portland Sea Dogs game on Aug. 21, and tickets must be reserved now. This celebration will be open to all fall first-graders through fall fifth-graders who successfully complete the program; younger children who participate will have another activity, closer to home (details are not finalized yet).

We are planning on a large turnout: 120 children's tickets have been purchased. Because the game will be at 7 p.m., we will be taking at least 20 chaperones. If you know now that you would like to be a chaperone, please contact the library. We will accept names on a first-come-first-served basis. We will be taking a bus or two to the game, but if anyone wants to go separately with their parents and other family members, they may do so by purchasing their own extra tickets. Because tickets are selling fast, the ticket agent at the Sea Dogs recommends that you buy your tickets as soon as possible. The date of the game is Aug. 21, and the phone number for the ticket purchase is 879-9500.

Please call the library (824-2520) or Betsy Raymond, librarian, at home (824-2261) if you have any questions regarding this exciting Summer Reading Field Trip.

Two gift books were donated to the library recently: Edna York gave "The Life and Times of Charles Dickens" by Alan S. Watts in memory of her mother, Maude Bean; and Carol and Richard Duplessis gave "Hollyhock Days: Garden Adventures for the Young at Heart" by Sharon Lovejoy in belated celebration of son Christopher's eighth birthday.

Thanks to the following for recent donations of books and audio tapes: Linda Gamble, Gwyneth Bohr, Curt Wilson, Buzz Gamble, Peg Wheeler, Edna York, Joe Roderick, and Clayton Sweatt.

April movies from Check It Out! Video Library Program are: "Thunder Road," "Cal," "The 4th Man," "Beat the Devil," "Angels Over Broadway," "I've Heard the Mermaids Singing," "Lady in Question," "Plaza Suite," "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," and "Ezra Jack Keats Stories."

New books added to the Bethel Library this week: Jonathan Korman, "Self-Defense"; William

Gould tennis teams win openers

If Saturday is a sign of things to come for Gould Academy tennis, the season looks to be a good one. Both the boys' and girls' varsity tennis teams won their season openers on their home court.

The afternoon got off to a rocky start, with Gould's boys losing the first and second singles matches. But junior Lucas St. Clair began Gould's rally, beating his opponent handily 6-2, 6-0 in third singles. Chris Shearer '96 and teammate Jon Strazza '97 won 6-0, 6-1 in first doubles, while John Batten '96 and Takahito Kasahara '95 clinched Gould's overall victory with their 6-1, 6-4 win in second doubles.

The girls continued the winning and swept Hebron 5-0. Victoria Bell '96 won a hard-fought first singles match 6-7, 7-5, 7-6. Melinda Johansen '95 won second singles 6-0, 6-3 and senior Marie Lowell, daughter of Ms. Lillian Lowell of Bethel and Mr. David Lowell of Newry, took third singles 6-1, 6-4. Anji Grajewski '96 and Chris Shaner '95 won first doubles 6-2, 3-6, 6-4 and second doubles went to Marlis Hamory '95 and Meghan Skea '96, 6-2, 6-1.

FROM THE

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Welcome to our newest members: Pat Thurston of Bethel; Wild River Adventures of Bethel, Steve and Marie Keane, owners; and Four Seasons Realty of Locke Mills, Gordon Brown, owner. It is great to have these three new additions to our membership.

Many thanks to the "Bethel Citizen" and the "Lewiston Sun" for donating the color separation for our beautiful Bethel Art Fair Poster which was graciously donated by Gail Giarusso of Barker Brook Gallery in Newry.

Members are reminded of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Workshop on Tuesday, April 18, from 9-11 a.m. at the Bethel Inn in the Gibson Room. The guest speaker is Lee Baade, training director from the New England Disability and Business Technical Assistance Center in Portland. This is a free workshop sponsored by Wild River Realty, Rentals Unlimited and the Chamber. No R.S.V.P. is needed.

Our chamber will be represented next week at the Toronto Travel and Leisure Show as a part of the Maine's Lakes and Mountains Tourism Council. We will be joining with 300 other exhibitors from all over the world and are happy to represent our region and the state of Maine.

Greenwood Historical Society meets

By MARY MILLS

The Greenwood Historical Society met for the regular meeting on the very cold and windy evening of April 5 with 12 members and three guests present and Joan Kimball, president, presiding at the meeting.

There was some discussion of a flea market and a cleaning job to be done at the town hall and both projects to be taken up at the next meeting.

It was reported that Michael Stowell had become a life member of the society.

It has been brought to this writer's attention that the names of Mr. and Mrs. Azel Bryant were omitted from those listed who had lived at the Al-vah Hobb's residence on Main Street. This place is expected to be either razed or moved when construction begins on Route 26 in the village.

Blaine Mills presented a program on the life of Nettie Maxim and showed slides of her photography.

Virginia Keniston furnished refreshments.

A card was signed to be mailed to Louise Seames, who was reported to be a surgical patient at the Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

Jeanette Kimball will take care of refreshments for the May meeting.

POLE, PADDLE, PAW

The winners of this year's Pole, Paddle and Paw Race at Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Ski Center were: women -- Hanna and Alison Trifon of Westbrook; mixed -- Ruth Hall and Peter Merill of Auburn; men -- Doug Armstrong and Ken Kendall of North Conway, N.H.

It was the third victory in a row for Armstrong and Kendall, retiring the trophy.

Is Summer Tourism Important to your business?

If it is, here's your opportunity to advertise your products, services and other offerings at the fingertips of the guests and visitors you are looking for.

The Citizen is planning its 11th Annual Summer Recreation Guide to be published in May.

Western Maine is noted for its great variety of outdoor activities, but there's also plenty to do on a rainy summer day.

This guide will contain informative directories for antiquing, shopping, dining, lodging as well as a map that shows how to find your business!

General Information

- Tabloids distributed at Tourist Information booths, hiking and camping centers, and travel agencies
- 20,000 distributed to homes in the North Shore/Boston Area
- Normal distribution in outdoor recreation shops from Portland to Boston, and into Canada
- Tabloids available locally at motels, inns, restaurants and service stations throughout the summer
- Editorial will provide informative stories and pictures
- Full color cover

The New Locke Mountain Townhouses

Trail Elevation

Slopeside ♦ Quality Construction ♦ Panoramic Views

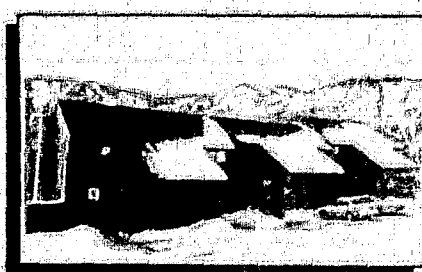

Now, there's a new townhouse development in the heart of the White Mountains. The New Locke Mountain Townhouses are a collection of 12 modern, multi-story buildings with large windows and balconies, offering panoramic views of the surrounding mountains. The townhouses are built with quality construction and feature a variety of amenities, including in-unit laundry, hardwood floors, and granite countertops. The development is located on a scenic trail, providing easy access to hiking and other outdoor activities. The townhouses are offered exclusively by Sunday River Realty.

SUNDAY RIVER REALTY

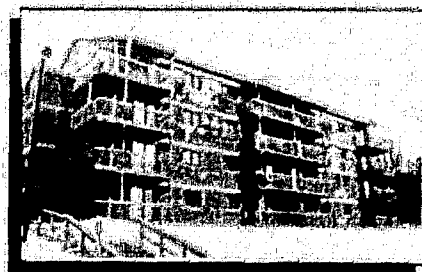

Sunday River Realty specializes in on-mountain condominium property only. By limiting our market to these properties, we have become the leader for trailside living. Given the opportunity, Sunday River Realty can find the home perfect for your needs.

From studios to large townhouses, resales and new construction - with prices starting in the mid 40's, we are sure to have something of interest to everyone. All Sunday River condominiums are trailside with easy access to the enjoyment of seven interconnected mountain peaks. After a day on the slopes, enjoy a dip in the pool, sauna or apres ski with entertainment. Several fine restaurants are within walking distance of your condominium.

Sound interesting? Let "The Mountain Specialists" at Sunday River Realty help you find your second home.

Sunday River Realty is open seven days a week for your convenience from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. or by appointment.

Obituaries

VIVA Y. WHITMAN

Viva Y. Whitman, 70, died Tuesday, April 4, 1995, at the Odd Fellows Nursing Home, Auburn.

She was born at Woodstock, Jan. 4, 1925, daughter of Estes and Eva Hayes Yates. She attended Woodstock Elementary School and graduated from Woodstock High School in 1943. She had worked in local shoe factories, Grant's Department Store, and Cornwall Manufacturing. She had been a writer for The Bethel Citizen's "High Street" until her illness.

She was a member of the Franklin Grange, Oxford Pomona Grange, and the Maine State Grange. She was also a member of the Second Congregational Church of Norway of which she was a previous church teacher, and a 4-H leader for over 10 years.

She married Dayton R. Whitman on Nov. 11, 1945. He died April 27, 1966.

She is survived by a daughter, Wynona Woolf of Auburn, a foster daughter, Helen W. Strout of Oxford; one son, Wendall of West Paris; two sisters, Linona Blake of West Paris and Laura Hutchinson of East Andover; three brothers, Lawrence and Russell of West Paris, and Bryce of Bethel; three grandchildren.

She was predeceased by a sister, Georgie Haines of Bethel, and one brother, Carroll of Norway.

Funeral services were held April 7 at the Second Congregational Church of Norway with the Rev.

John Ellis officiating. Interment will be in the Pikes Hill Cemetery, Norway, at a later date. Donations in Mrs. Whitman's memory may be sent to the American Cancer Society, Box 456, Brunswick, ME 04011.

PAUL A. JUDKINS

Paul Asaph Judkins Sr., 87, of Vero Beach, Fla., died Friday, April 7, 1995, at Palm Garden of Vero Beach following a brief illness.

Mr. Judkins was born on July 5, 1907, in Carthage and had been a resident of Vero Beach, Fla., for 12 years, coming from Dixfield.

Mr. Judkins was a retired Lieutenant Colonel, U.S. Army, and was a veteran of World War II. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge 57, Dixfield, 33rd degree; Scottish Rite of Free Masonry, S.J. Roanoke, Va., 32nd degree; Reserve Officer Association, life member of Retired Officers Association and the American Legion.

Survivors include his wife of 16 years, Helen Varner Judkins (a former elementary teacher in Bethel) of Vero Beach, Fla.; two sons, Paul A. of Farmington and M.E. Judkins of Rigby, Tenn.; one daughter, Janice Lewis of Farmington; nine grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Graveside services will be held at Greenwood Cemetery in Dixfield at a later date. Contributions may be made to the Unity Church of Vero Beach, 1916 27th Avenue, Vero Beach, FL 32960, in memory of Mr. Judkins.

WOMEN VETS SERVICES

The State of Maine, Division of Veterans Services, has established a registry for female veterans.

Female veterans are encouraged to call 1-800-345-0116 and register. The Department of Veterans Affairs has many benefits available for women veterans.

ALBANY CHURCH

The Albany Congregational Church will hold a special meeting on Monday, April 24, at the church at 7 p.m. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

CHRISTIAN WOMEN UNITED

The Christian Women United will hold their monthly meeting at the Country Way Restaurant in South Paris on Tuesday, April 18, 11:30 a.m. The speaker for the day will be Pam Healy from Kennebunkport and music will be furnished by Lorie McKenney of Sumner.

Those who have not been contacted but would like reservations may call Leora Whitney at 743-7221 or Pearl Anderson at 743-5724.

Card of Thanks

Thank you to family, friends and everyone for the many cards, flowers and telephone calls on our special day. It is heartwarming to know one has so many friends and such a very special family. It was so nice to be remembered by so many.

Thanks to all.

Babe & Edna Carver

Births

Tim and Aimee Bean of Bethel are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby boy, Holden Jake, born on April 3, 1995, at Stephens Memorial Hospital, weighing 9 lbs, 8 ozs.

Maternal grandparents are Stanley Walker of Bethel and Hilda Holmes of Buckfield.

Paternal grandparents are Carroll and Dora Bean of Albion, Vt.

Holden joins sister Chelsea, age 4.

UNITED METHODIST WOMEN

The United Methodist Women of Bethel met at the church dining room the afternoon of April 6, with 14 present. Leslie Bonney was welcomed as a new member. In the absence of the president, the meeting was conducted by vice president Rose Dyer. The meeting was opened by a salute to the flag and a prayer by Muriel Faudi. Following reports of the secretary and treasurer, a collection of $5.60 was taken.

Forty-five sick calls had been made and the sunshine committee announced that the following had been remembered: Madeleine Gibbs, Dorothy Orino, Barbara Mahler, Eleanor Pugliese and Ann Patten. Virginia Keniston was reported ill. Quilt blocks ready to be embroidered were distributed to those helping with the quilt project.

The program was presented by Edna York and consisted of several interesting readings. Refreshments were served by Evelyn Reed and Rose Dyer. The next meeting will be May 4, at the church, hosted by Doris Fraser and Edna York.
